"LET GOD ARISE; LET HIS ENEMIES BE SCATTERED."

Dr. Talmage Says We Need a Battle Cry, and, if We Are to Get Victory All Along the Line, We Must Put God

Arm of the Lord, awake! awake! Put on Thy strength, the nations shake. Having expounded the account of Paul's which he preached the following sermon:

which he preached the following sermon:

A procession was formed to carry the ark or sacred box, which, though only 3 feet 3 inches in length and 4 feet 3 inches in height and depth, was the symbol of God's presence. As the leaders of the procession lifted this ornamented and brilliant tox by two golden poles run through four golden rings, and started for Mount Zion, all the people chanted the bittle hymn of my text—"Let God arise; let His enemies be scattered."

The Cameronians, of Scotland, outraged by James I, who forced upon them religious forms that were oftensive, and by the terrible persecution of Drummond, Dalziel, and Turner, and by the oppressive laws of Charles I and Charles II, were driven to proclaim war against tyrants, and went when David first unsheathed it. It seems to me what in the Church of God, and in all styles of reformatory work, we most need now is a battle cry. We raise our little standard and put on it the name of some man who only a few years ago began to live, and in a lew years will cease to live. We go into contest against the armies of inquity depending too much on human agoneles. We use for a battle cry the name of some braye Christian reformer, but after a while that reformer dies, or gets old, or loses his courage, and then we take another tattle cry, and this time, perhaps, we put the pame of some one wan plays. Arnold and sells out to the enemy. What we want for a battle cry is the name of some leader who will never betray us, and will never surrender, and will never die. All respect have I for brave men and women, but if we are going to get the victory all along the line we must put God first. We must take the blat of the tildeonites, who wiped out the Bedouin Arabs, commonly called Midianites. These Glevonites had a giorious leader in Gideun, but what was the lattle cry with which they fitting their ememies into the worst defeat into which any his lower jaw dropped, smoke issued from month and nostrils, and the heat of his body was so intense it drove back those whe would come near. Scores of people have visited the scene and saw the blasphemer in awful process of expiring.

Do not think that because God has been silent in your case, Oh, profane swearer! that he is dead. Is there nothing now in the peculiar feeling of your tongas, or nothing in the numbness of your torin that indicates that God may come to average your blasphemics, or is already avenging them? But these cases I have noticed I believe are only a few cases where there are hundreds. Families keep them still to avoid the horrible conspicuity. Physicians suppress them through profesbelieve are only a few cases I have noticed at bundreds. Families keep them still to avoid the horrible conspicuity. Physicians suppress them through professional confidence. It is a very, very, very long roll that contains the names of those who died with blasphemies on their lips; and still the crime rolls on, up through parlore, up through chandellers, with lights all ablaze, and through the pictured corridors of club rooms, &c., out through parlore, up through corridors of club rooms, &c., out through busy exchanges, where oath meets oath, and down through all the haunts of sia, mingling with the rattling dice and cracking billiard balls, and the laughter of her who hath forgotten the covenant of her God; and round the city, and round the continent, and round the expension of her God; and round the city, and round the ship captain damns his crew, and the measter builder damns his men, and the hack driver damns his horse, and the traveler damns his shoes, or the defective time-piece that gets him too late to the rail train. I arraign profane swearing and blasphemy, two names for the same thing, as being one of the gigantic crimes of this land, and for its extirpation it does seem as if it were about time for God to arise.

a treat as he leaves town. Others, to drown their troubles, submerge themselves with this worse trouble. Oh, the world is battered and bruised and blasted with this growing evil! It is more and more entranced and fortified. They have millions of dollars subscribed to marshal and advance the alcoholic forces. They nominate and elect and govern the vast majority of the office-holders of this country. On their side they have enlisted the niightiest political power of the centuries. And behind them stand all the myrmidons of the nether world, Satanic and Apollyonic and diabolic. It is beyond all human effort to throw this bastile of decenters or capture this Gibraitar of rum jugs. 2,000 moreyears passed along and God turned another leaf, and it was the deluge. About 2,000 more years passed on and it was the ap-pearance of Christ. Almost 3,000 more years bave passed by, and He will probably soon turn another leaf. What it shall be I canturn another leaf. What it shall be I cannot say. It may be the demolition of all these monstrosities of turpitude and the establishment of righteousness in all the earth. He can do it, and He will do it. I am as confident as it it were already accomplished. How easily He can do it my text suggests. It does not ask God to strike with His right hand, or stamp with His foot, or hurl a thunderboit of His power, but just to get up from the throne on which He sits. Only that will be necessary: "Let God arise!"

It will be no exertion of omnipotence. It will be no bending or bracing for a mighty lift. It will be no sending down the sky of the white borse cavalry of heaven or rumbling war charlots. He will only rise, now He is sitting in the majesty and patience of His reign. He is from His throne watching the mustering of all the forces of blasphemy, and drunkenness, and impurity, and fraud, and Sabbath-breaking, and when they have done their worst and are most securely organized, He will beatir himself and say: "My enemies have defied me long enough, and their cup of iniquity is full. I have given them all caportunity for repent-

Iried no longer."

And now God begins to rise, and what mountains give way under His right foot, and what continents sink under His left foot, I know not; but standing in the full height, and radiance, and grandeur of His nature. He looks this way, and that, and how His enemies are scattered! Biasphemers, white and dumb, reel down to their doom; and those who have trafficked in that which destroys the bodies and souls of men and families will fly with cut foot on the down grade of broken decanters; and the poliuters of society that did their bad work with large fortunes and high social sphere will overtake in their descent the degraded rabble of underground city life as they tumble over the eternial precipices; and the world shall be left clear and clean for the friends of bunnanty and the worshipers of Almighty God. The list thorn plucked off, the world will be left a blooming rose on the bosom of that Christ who came to gardenize it. This earth that stood snarling with its tigerish passion, thrusting out its raging claws, shall lie down a lamb at the feet of the Lamb of God, who took away the sins of the world.

And now the best thing I can wish for Annual Report. the thirty-first annual report of the board of visitors of the government insane hospital. The members of the board are: Jos. M. Toner, M. D.; James C. Weiting, LL. D.; Mrs. A. M. Gangewer, Mrs. Amelia J.

D.; Mrs. A. M. Gangewer, Mrs. Amelia J. Rowland, John J. Aimy, U. S. N.; F. P. Cuppy, Francis M. Gunnell, and Byron Sunderland, D. D.

There were remaining in the hospital on June 30, 1885, 1,221 patients, and 300 were admitted during the last year. Of the number under treatment 1,100 were mates and 364 females; 77 have been discharge I recovered, 73 improved, 5 unimproved, and 102 have died, thus leaving in the hospital June 30, 1886, 1,297 patients, of which 368 are males and 301 females.

The report says that the showing made is a most favorable one considering the character of the large proportion of those almitted. The farm supplied products to the hospital to the value of $30,000 during the year. The chief advantage from the farm is the recreation and employment it affords to the inmates. The custom of taking parties of men and women out to work in the fields and in the wash house has been attended with such favorable results that it will be continued on a much larger scale. In addition to the sewing room for the women lawn sewing parties have been carried on, so that a larger proportion of the female patients have been given employment than over before. Life in the open air at all proper times is the rule, and the general health of the patients has been improved by it.

by it.

The report also says that "valuable work" has been done in the pathological department. More than sixty antopsies have been made during the year, the observed condition of the brain and other or-gans carefully recorded, microscopic sec-tions prepared, studied, and preserved, for comparison and study in the future. Photographic work has also been added to Photographic work has also been added to this department.

During the year a dentist was employed to take care of the teeth of the insane.
For the next year the estimates for the hospital are as follows: For support, $2.75, 000; for general repairs and improvements, $15,000; building for additional accommodation for colored insane, $17,000; rebuilding wharf at the river, $1,500; tower clock, $700; furnishing building for convict insane, $5,000; additional land for farming purposes, $6,000.

A ceaseless musical murmur pervaded the gorgeous store—how ladies will talk !—in the midst whereof was heard at times the peculiar sound of the cable cash carrier overhead, conveying money to the happy proprietors and change to the equally happy multitude of purchasers.

That contrivance, plan, or invention is the sole and exclusive property of the Bon Marche. Its operation is admirable. Customers here wat but a moment for their cutitlement of crisp notes or moon-lustered silver.

All the while continued the frantic rush of clerks, gentlemanly young fellows, with method in their madness, and the rush, with rustle added to it, of the pretty counter girls.

The main excitement seemed to be about beautiful, elaborate, let bead adorned, indescribably trimmed hats. Many of these may yet be seen and should be. Early or never, like butterflies, they are to exquisite to remain long. Secure them while you may.

THE MAGISTRATE SYSTEM More Economical for the District Than the Police Court. Among the matters that should be considered by the commissioners and recommended to Congress is the reorganization of a police magistrate system. Such a system is needed, and, in point of economy, would far exceed the present police court system and give greater satisfaction to the public, as well as to the police. There should be eight magistrates, or one to each station house, appointed, at a salary of $1,200 each per annum. The sum of $400 to each magistrate annually would more than cover the expenses of his office. This would give sppeals once a month or week, and this could be done without creating any expense. The following interesting statement is submitted, showing the work done

The investigation of the police court in 1871 by the committee of the house of delegates was printed by the Washington Revent.icas job office in August, 1871. But few copies are extant. The committee recommen led many changes to be made. The running expenses of each magistrate did not exceed $300 per annum. The receipts of United $300 per annum. The receipts of United $15tes cases if tried before the magistrates would have added about 20 per cent. to those received from corporation cases. The heavy fines now imposed in corporation cases were unknown in the magistrate's time. What he did say was that, "when powerless and stripped of all worldly goods, our Democratic brethren of the north stood by us, and in defeat and after defeat kept on the same. We can after defeat kept on the same. We can congratulate ourselves on the strides our state has made in twenty years. With smoking chimneys and desolate fields everywhere then, we now see fine buildings, fertile fields, and every comfort, and we may truly say, in view of the progress of Virginia in that time, that the grand old state is greater in peace than she is in war."

But admitting that Gen. Lee did use the language which this Democratic (!) delegate was surprised "escaped criticism," he took care to see that it should not long escape the attention of the enemies of Gen. Lee, by communicating it to the Critic in publication. And it is only more surprising that a journal of the southern Democratic proclivities of the Critic should publish such rot.

THE BLASPHEMY ABROAD

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Oct. 3 .- The opening bymn at the Tabernacle this morning be-of Charles I and Charles II, were driven to proclaim war against tyrants, and went forth to fight for religious liberty; and the mountain heather became red with carnage, and at Bothwell Bridge and Aird's Moss and Drumclog the battle hymn and the battle shout of those glorious old Southmen was the text I have chosen: "Let God arise; let His enemies be scattered."

What a whirlwind of power was Oliver Cromwell, and how with his soldier's name, "The Ironsides," he went from victory to victory! Opposing armies melted. tory to victory! Opposing armies melted as he looked at them. He dismissed paritatory to victory! Opposing armies melted as he looked at them. He dismissed parisament as easily as a schoolmaster a school. He pointed his finger at Berkeley Castle, and it was taken. He ordered Lord Hopton, the general, to dismonut, and he dismounted. See Cromwell marching on with his army, and hear the battle cry of "The Ironsides," loud as a storm and solemn as a death knell, standards reeling before it, and cavalry horses going back on their haunches, and armies fiving, at Marston Moor, at Wincepy Field, at Naseby, at Bridgewater, and Dartmouth—"Let God arise; let His enemies be scattered!"

So you see my text is not like a complimentary and tasseled aword that you see semetimes hung up in a parlor, a sword that was never in battle, and only was to be used on general training day, but more like some weapon carefully hung up in your home, telling its story of Chapultepee, Cerro Gordo, and Cherbulsco, and Thatcher's Run, and Maivern Hill; for my text hangs in the Scripture armory, telling of the holy wars of 3,000 years, in which it has been carried, but as keen and mighty as when David first unsheathed it. It seems to me what in the Church of God, and in all styles of reformatory work, we most need how is a battle cry. We raise our little srmy was ever tumbled? It was "the sword of the Lord and of Gideon." Put God first, whoever you put second. If the army of the American revolution are to frea America, it must be "the sword of the Lord and of Washington." If the Germans want to win the day at Sedan, it must be "the sword of the Lord and Von Moltke." Waterloo was won for the English, because not only the armed men at the front but the worshipers in the cathedrals at the rear were crying: "The sword of the Lord and Wellington." The Methodists have gone in triumph across nation after nation with the cry: "The sword of the Lord and of Weslev." The Presbyterians have gone from victory to victory with the cry: "The sword of the Lord and of John Knox." The Baplists have conquered millions after millions lists have conquered millions after millions for Christ with the cry: "The sword of the Lord and of Judson." Lord and of Judson." The American Episcopalians have won their mighty way with the cry: "The sword of the Lord and of Bishop McIlvaine." The victory is to those who put God first. But as we want a battle cry suited to all sects of religiousts, and to all lands, I nominate as the battle cry of Christondorn in the approaching Armageddon the words of my text, sounded before the ark as it was carried to Mount Zion: "Let God arise; let His enomies be scattered."

As far as our finite mind can judge, it seems about time for God to rise. Does it not seem to you that the abominations of this earth have gone far enough? Was there ever a time when sin was so defiant? Were there ever before so many fists lifted toward God, telling. Him to come on if he dare? Look at the blasphemy abroad! What towering profanity! Would it be possible for any one to calculate the numbers of times that the name of Almighty God and of Jesus Christare every day taken irrevently on the lips? So common has blasphemy become that the public mind and public ear have got used to it, and a blasphemer, and there is not a mayor in America that has backbone enough to interfere with him save one, and that the mayor of Toronto. Profane swearing is as much forbidden by the law as thet, or arson, or of Toronto. Profane swearing is as much forbidden by the law as theft, or arson, or murder; yet who executes it? Profanity is worse than theft, or arson, or murder, for these crimes are attacks on humanity—that is an attack on God.

these crimes are attacks on humanity—that is an attack on God.

This country is pre-eminent for blasphemy. A man traveling in Russia was supposed to be a clergyman. "Why do you take me to be a clergyman ?" said the man. "Oh," said the Russian, "all other Americaus swear." The crime is multiplying in intensity. God very often shows what He thinks of it, but for the most part the fatality is hushed up. A few summers ago, among the Adirondacks, I met the funeral procession of a man who, two days before, had fallen under a flash of lightning while boasting, after a Sunday of work in the fields, that he had cheated God out of one day anyhow; and the man who worked with boasing, after a Sunday of work in the fields, that he had cheated God out of one day anyhow; and the man who worked with him on the same Sabbath is still living, but a heipless invalid under the same flash. On the road from Margate to Ramsgate, England, you may find a rough monument with the inscription: "A boy was struck dead here while in the act of swearing." Years ago in a Pittsburg prison two men were talking about the Bible and Christienity, and one of them, Thompson by name, applied to Jesus Christ a very low and villathous epithet, and as he was uttering it he fell. A physician was called, but no help could be given. After a day lying with distended pupils and palsied tongue, he passed out of this world. In a cemetery in Sullivan county, in this state, are eight headstones in a line and all alke, and these are the facts: In 1861 diphtheria raged in the village, and a physician was remarkably successful in curing his patients. So confident did he become that he boasted that no case of diphtheria could stand before him, and finally defied Almighty God to produce a case of diphtheria that he could not cure. His youngest child soon after took the disease and died, and one child after another until all the eight had died of diphtheria. The blasphemer challegged Almighty God and God scepted the challenge.

But I come later down and give you a fact that is proved by scores of witnesses. This last August of 1880 a man got provoked at the continued drought and the ruin of his crops, and in the presence of hie neighbors he cursed God, saying that he would cut his heart out if he would come, calling Him a liar and a coward, and flaaning a kuife. And while he was speaking

Our greatest commander has not yet fully taken the field. If all hell is on their side, all Heaven is on our side. Now, "Let God arise, and let His enemies be scattered."
Then look at the impurities of these great cities. Ever and anon there are in the newspapers explosions of social life that make the story of Sodom quite respectable; for such things, Christ says, were more tolerable for Sodom and Gomorrab than for the Choranzins and Bethiaidas of greater light. It is no unusual thing in our cities to see men in high position with two or three families, or refined ladies willing solemnly to marry the very swine of society if they be wealthy. Brooklyn, whose streets afteen years ago were almost free from all sign of the social evil, now night by night rivaling upper upper Broadway in its flamboyant wickedness. The Blob all sifame with denunciation against an impure life, but many of the American ministry nutering not one point-blank word sgainst this iniquity lest some old libertine throw up his church pow. now by saying that if all our American cities got all the punishment they deserve for their horrible impurities, the earth would long ago have cracked open into crevices transcontinental, and taken down all our cities; and Brooklyn and New York would have gone so far under that the tip of our church spires would be 500 feet below the surface. It is of the Lord's mercles that we have not been consumed.

Not only are the affairs of this world so a-twist, a-jangle, and racked that there seems a need of the Livine appearance, but there is another reason. Have you not noticed that in the history of this planet God turns a leaf about every 2,600 years. God turned a leaf and this world was fitted for human residence. About 2,000 moreyears passed along and God turned Notwithstanding this solemn pledge, affirmed by his own vote personally in the unanimous adoption of the resolution, he thus carries out his pledge by attempting the political assassination of the nominee of the convention by obtaining the publication of a pretended "escaped criticism" which the honest opponents of Gen. Lee, whether true or not, were not mean and despicable enough to notice.
